

of the Exp. and there will be a very fair illustration of its products - one person out of patience at not being called on for his subscription (Mr Robertson of the Royal Hotel).
Has addressed a letter to Lord Aberdeen with £10. begging him to forward it - a letter was addressed too, to His Lordship, requesting him on the part of the local Committee to represent them as "local "Commissioner". But strange to say he had never replied to their letter - a Protectionist too (Gordon of the Castle
