Lord Stanley is averse to a guarantee Fund, would prefer having the money procured by contract - Sir R. Peel could not admit Mr.
Purvis's principle of proportion, but thought every one's guarantee should be limited to 1000 £ -

My opinion is that notwithstanding it being unbusinesslike to go on so long without a proper understanding as to our finances, it will be better not to hurry this question further than by making confidential
