1. The Secretary will read the Royal read, H.R.H. will probably explain already taken place, briefly noticing the preliminary inquiries that have been made, the satisfactory results that have been obtained, the local Committees that have been formed, the contract that has been entered into with the Messrs. Munday, and such other matters as to His Royal Highness may appear important. This will naturally prepare the meeting for the next head.]

2. The Commissioners will consider the mode in which the business of the Commission is to be carried on; and especially, what should be the functions of the Commission, of the Executive Committee, and of the local Commissioners and Committees respectively.
